Justice in America

To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee
Just Mercy by Bryan Stevenson

You are cordially invited to attend the Philadelphia Great Books Council's 59th annual Spring Institute. In the morning, we will discuss Harper Lee's 1960 novel To Kill a Mockingbird. Ms. Lee depicted a way of life and a grave miscarriage of justice, seen through the eyes of a child, in a lovely book that fully rewards repeated readings. In the afternoon, we will deal with Just Mercy by Bryan Stevenson. Stevenson is one of the country's foremost criminal justice reformers, the founder of the Equal Justice Initiative, and has been called "America's young Nelson Mandela". This book won the NAACP Image Award for an Outstanding Literary Work of Nonfiction. It is a powerful true story about the potential for mercy to redeem us, and a clarion call to fix our broken system of justice. Join us as we consider how an evil can be overcome and a difference can be made.

Your $50 fee covers continental breakfast, lunch, and afternoon snacks; and copies of both books, which will be mailed promptly upon receipt of your registration. For more information, contact:
